

Walking Your Talk Practitioner Program

Year 2 FAQ's

What is it?

Consider the online Coaching Program you completed as a first layer, designed to convey the basic elements of a language of movement so that you can integrate the non-verbal into your current professional practice.

The next layer is the Practitioner Program, year 2. We will not only be reviewing and diving deeper into each of the four core courses: Effective Presence, Emotional Intelligence, Dynamics of Encounter and the Challenges to Change – you will also be learning processes and practices that have been field tested in workshops and trainings. We want to give you the skills you require to better serve your clients.

What are the benefits of participating?

The purpose of the Workshop component is very simple and profound. What you are able to see and can do will be exponentially magnified and clarified. This will change everything. And each of the four workshops will unfold your perceptions from a different angle. We have also designed a series of coaching processes to build key competencies AND you will learn how to deliver our very popular, powerful and effective STICS training exercises (a favorite from the 2011 group).

Here's some of what 2011 Practitioners shared about what they gained:

- Practice using powerful, non-judgmental assessment tools I can use with any client, in any company.
- Deeper understanding of the Learnware modules and greater competence in navigating and using Learnware effectively.
- Experiencing the power of subtlety, and practice noticing and working with subtleties in coaching triads.
- Being with this amazing group of fellow professionals, it is a chance to learn together and share best practices.
- The program models practical strategies for cultivating leadership competencies and tools for dealing with difficult issues.
